Lauren: ICE presence in the city today, may be targeting your school's neighborhood.

7:15 AM

Anonymous American Mom (AAM): Can non-students carry on school grounds?

7:45 AM

AAM: Have a good day, love!

Becca: Thanks mom, you too!

8:45 AM

Anthony: Good morning. Yikes. I gotta say I was looking at some houses in Costa Rica I'm going to keep in mind.

10:17 AM

AAM: OK friends— Show me what it looks like to be ready for story! Now let's see... where did we leave off? Oh yes, in last week's chapter, Brightbill met a new squirrel friend. Here we are. Chapter 38. The New Friendship.

1:55 PM

AAM: Hello, I'm Rebecca Rubin's mom with challah bread for her class's Cultural Foods day.

Secretary: Come on in, the assistant principal would like to speak with you...

Mr. V: Her teacher's heart is in the right place, but we can't allow foods from home in case of allergies. One time, we had a bouquet of flowers delivered, and we didn't know there was an orchid in there and a teacher passed out.

AAM: Well, would you like some if the kids can't have it?

Mr. V: No thanks, I'm good.

6:02 PM

AAM: Thanks again for your flexibility with Becca's lesson this week, Sam, so she could make it to her track meet. See you next week!

6:03 PM

Becca: What's the plan for dinner?

6:15 PM

Jacob: Apparently Rabbi broke his arm skiing and can't lead services tomorrow night. Are you able to help?
